COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The Selectmen appointed Ernest Angevine to replace Dana Brooks as a trustee of the Bethel Water District. Mr. Brooks resigned effective April 30 after serving one year of his second term in office. His own business commitments were the reason given for resignation.

Robert Hunter of the Jordan Co., who were the consulting engineers for the proposed sewage disposal system preliminary plan, met with the board of selectmen Monday evening. He explained the procedures that must be followed to apply for Federal funds and left with the Board an agreement to retain the Jordan Co., for their services through the project. The Selectmen will study this and act next Monday night.

If anyone has a copy of the Preliminary Plan and has no further use for it, would return it to the Town Office it would be appreciated as I receive requests for a copy now and then from people who have not seen it and I do not have any left to distribute.

Christian Science
"What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"
This verse from Micah sets the theme of the Bible Lesson Sermon on "Doctrine of Atonement" which will be held Sunday in all Christian Science churches.
Services are 11 a. m., at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Main and Tenth Streets, Berlin, N. H.
A correlative passage from the denominational textbook comments: "Every pang of repentance and suffering, every effort for reform, every good thought and deed, will help us to understand Jesus' atonement for sin and aid its efficacy; but if the sinner continues to pray and repent, sin and be sorry, he has little part in the atonement,—in the at-one-ment with God—for he lacks the practical repentance, which reforms the heart and enables man to do the will of wisdom" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).
The Christian Science Radio Series "The Bible Speaks to You," is broadcast each Sunday over Station WMOU, Berlin, N. H., at 8:15 a. m. The topic on April 20 will be "Meeting Family Responsibilities."

Letters to the Editor

April 14, 1969

To the Editor of the Bethel Citizen:

It is almost inevitable that in any epistolary exchange with Mr. McCoy, the issues will submerge and personalities emerge. The original issue was zoning. That issue has now been bogged in a morass of irrelevancies. In fact a few years ago you called a halt to correspondence between us because it had become arid and offensive.

Let's examine the record. I own a house in Albany, Maine less than 500 feet from the Bethel town line. My post office address is Bethel, Maine. Mr. McCoy owns a house in Gilead approximately the same distance from the Bethel Town line. He apparently owns other property in Bethel and pays taxes to the town. I pay my property taxes directly to the State of Maine because Albany is a deorganized township. He has his roots in the area, I have spent 21 summers plus parts of several spring vacations in Bethel. He lives there the year round. Assuming these facts to be substantially accurate, does their existence give Mr. McCoy greater rights of free speech in Bethel than I have? He apparently thinks they do. I know they don't and believe further, that his attitude lost currency and validity almost 200 years ago.

During the years that I have been familiar with your newspaper, Mr. McCoy has expressed himself in your columns on a wide variety of subjects. His right to do so is unquestioned. However, when I do the very same thing "amusement, garnished with a sprig of amazement is engendered in me (him) by his (my) past counsels, among them: 1. public benches for him (me) to sit on; 2. a better supply of socks; 3. greater school expense for Gilead.

It seems that Mr. McCoy's counsels alone are valid, because he pays taxes to the Town of Bethel and I don't. After 20 years I am still the "outsider" and "stranger". I sometimes wonder how "outside" and "strange" one can become. Even the three items above which amuse and amaze him show ample evidence of his social irritations and prejudices.

1. The public bench campaign was successful. It had the support of the entire community. My wife and I paid for and donated to the Town of Bethel the first two public benches that were placed on the Bethel Commons. Neither my wife nor I have ever sat on them.

2. "A better supply of socks." Several years ago the University of Maine offered to open a Bethel branch on the Gould Academy campus. Since I had lived in a college town (Ithaca) for a number of years, I wrote to you suggesting that the Town of Bethel was then ill prepared for the influx of hundreds of young men and women. It lacked sufficient housing, police, restaurants, amusements, etc. Symbolically, I stated that there wasn't even a place to purchase a pair of socks. Incidentally at least two merchants in town told me subsequently that they sold socks. 99 99/100% of my letter to you dealt with the readiness of Bethel to become a college town. However after several years Mr. McCoy remembers only the miniscule reference to socks. The principal purpose of the letter is utterly side-tracked. I doubt that he even remembers its purpose.

3. "A greater school expense for Gilead." Mr. McCoy had written you a letter indicating that he had reduced school costs in Gilead. I was duly impressed because at the time school costs were rising astronomically throughout the country. Accordingly I wrote to you suggesting that Mr. McCoy share the secret of his success with other communities. I made no suggestion for greater school expense for Gilead. I did say that the saving was valid only if in the process of saving money, the children of Gilead received an education comparable to the best obtainable in the area. I have reason to believe that many parents in Gilead welcomed my letter.

At the respective times that these letters appeared in your newspaper, I received scores of commendatory comments both written and oral from the citizens of Bethel and surrounding towns. There was no intimation that I was meddling or exceeding my rights of free speech as a visitor or "stranger".

Mr. McCoy's last letter to you is replete with references to taxes which seem to prey heavily on his mind. I happen to live in one of the most heavily taxed areas in the U. S. A. I pay all the taxes that Mr. McCoy pays plus a N. Y. State and N. Y. City income taxes which together aggregate about 30% of an oversized Feneral income tax. In addition the cost of living index here is far higher that it is in most other parts of the country. With a set up of this kind, Mr. McCoy's tax problems, to which he constantly alludes, leave me cold. He is lucky to live in an area where taxes are reasonably manageable.

In your issue of March 20, 1969, Mr. McCoy in reply to my original letter to you started: "Ever since one Roosevelt and his fellows hoisted the jolly roger and turned everybody loose in his neighbor's cornfield . . ." He has used substantially the same language before and it sums up his political and social philosophy in the space age as we approach the end of the third quarter of the twentieth century. Its shortcoming lies in the fact that it has no relation to reality.

I wonder if Mr. McCoy found any significance in the letter by Two Telstar Students that appeared in your April 10th issue. Thanks for the use of the space. I assure you that I'll have no further comment.

Sincerely yours,
Mark E. Cymrot

P. S. On March 27, I asked why only 208 voters out of a population of about 4,000 inhabitants voted on the important issue of zoning. Do you have the answer?

Editor's Note: The official 1960 U. S. census listed Bethel's population as 2,408. As projected by the James W. Sewall Co. as part of a comprehensive plan its 1970 population will be 2,900. There are about 1,300 registered Bethel voters. Assuming this to be close to, if not in fact, the actual number of those eligible to vote, 56.4% decided to repeal zoning 527 to 206 on May 14, 1968. An attempt to reinstate zoning was defeated at the 1968 annual meeting, 169 to 93 (262 voters, 20% of those eligible). The voting last spring was by secret ballot, and at the annual session, by standing vote in open meeting.

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE

It is better and safer to pray over the Bible than to brood over self. And the prayer which is stirred by the Cross is holier even than that which arises from the guilt that drives us to the Cross. What really searches us is neither our own introspection, nor God's law, but it is God's Gospel, as it pierces us from the merciless mercy of the Cross and the Son unspared for us.

—P. T. Forsyth

April 15, 1969

To the Citizens of SAD 44:

Proposals were made at the last regular directors' meeting for a change in the ranking periods, unstructured time and English Curriculum at Telstar Regional High School. I would like to discuss these three proposals so that you may know the reasons why they were brought before the directors.

1. Proposed to revert immediately to four (4) ranking periods per school year with appropriate rank cards to be signed by parent or guardian and returned to the school. Warning slips and requests for consultations to be mailed to parent or guardian and to originate with respective teachers. (Follow-ups to be maintained in Principal's office — suggest phone call to parent if no response from parent within one week).

It seems to me that as taxpayers and parents we should have periodic reports on the progress of our young people. I have talked with as many parents as possible on this subject and I haven't met one single parent that doesn't want rank cards and warning slips. Several parents have expressed shock to me that their son or daughter brought home a failure or near failing mark without any previous warning from the school. It has also bothered many that they never know when to expect grades so it is very difficult to check up. Several found that grades had been issued but were never brought home. If it were a failing grade you can readily see the type of situation that can develop before parents are even aware that anything has gone wrong. (See D-11 below)

2. Proposed to allow "unstructured" time only to those students whose ranks indicate that they have earned this privilege. (Suggest ranks above 80 in all subjects).

It has been my feeling for quite some time that too much free time is being wasted. Most students will join a card game, a tape recording, etc. if given the opportunity. Surely the non-motivated student will spend all his free time in the pursuit of just plain recreation. It must be a great temptation to play instead of study, but we are paying good tax dollars to give the students an education.

I can see good features in the modular program; also some poor ones. It is going to take a lot of serious examination and research if we are going to be able to keep its good points, throw out the bad and still satisfy the state's requirements for approval and accreditation. (See D—6 & 7 below).

3. Proposed to revert to a traditional, proven English curriculum with strong emphasis on vocabulary building, English composition, speech and literature of a recognized lasting value.

Last year's overall district testing results of eighth grade pupils showed over 50% of them to be below grade level in word meaning, paragraph meaning and language. This one result tells a story and shows a need for continued vocabulary building and English composition at the secondary level. (See C-5 below).

Literature selections should have sound basic morals and be chosen with care so as not to be embarassing to the students in an open discussion with his peers. Boston Globe Editor, Tom Winship, when discussing the use of four-letter words in the Press said, "It is titillating to use dashes, but it is adolescent to bathe people in barnyard words." (See below—Curriculum—C).

In summary, let me say that Mr. Ryder and the directors have expressed the desire for Telstar Regional High School to become an approved and accredited school. We believe that it is also your goal.

The following are excerpts from the State Department of Education's Manual for Approval and Accreditation of Maine Secondary Schools:

Curriculum — Page 4 — The Good secondary school:

8. Contributes to the development of sound moral and ethical values.

D.—Pupil Accounting—Page 7.

6. Travel of pupils throughout the building during and between class is controlled.

7. Schedule forms in the principal's office show the normal location of each pupil at all times (classroom, study hall, pupil activities, lunch period).

11. Parents receive adequate periodic reports from the school concerning pupil progress in the educational system.

C—Curriculum offerings—Page 9

5. There is evidence of some written composition required at least once each week in each English class for all pupils.

Very truly yours,
Robert H. Day, Sr.
Director — SAD 44

We're two freshmen students at Telstar Regional High School who are concerned and affected in its problems. Like for instance a few people want to change the modular system and also give us study halls which will mean wrecking and throwing things and we don't need that because some of us have managed to use our own time wisely. A lot of the students think we would do like little children. We don't want study halls because it would be boring for one reason, and for the second reason it will make trouble for the teachers and us students.

Here are a few of the things we can do on unstructured time: Gym, to improve your body; Art Studio, to make things; Library, to read or study.

Seems how we have a new modern school we should be able to keep our modern methods in teaching and studying. Why let just a few people spoil it for the rest, why not discuss this with the parents as they are interested in the school they are helping to support and wish to have a say in their methods as this is a school not a church that they are attending so let's keep it that way!

If these certain few keep on they will be a lot of dropouts thanks to them. Pupils in Telstar District will not be dictated to as they are in the communist countries! This is what we need less of here. How much better it would be to work with us pupils and teachers instead of against us. This began with objections to the books that a certain few wanted taken out of our school. And so we feel that if you parents would try and help please, we would appreciate it. Thank you!

OXCARTS

The oxcart creaked slowly by. This one had a load of a dozen or so Laterite stone blocks; blocks for the foundation and walls of a new house being built in the village. The oxcarts carry many and varied loads, perhaps it is sacks of rice, maybe trade goods such as salt and sugar from the bus station to a shop, maybe a load of logs to the saw mill—or a load of lumber a villager is hauling home. Perhaps it will be a load of pottery jugs coming to the market from a faraway village, or hay from a distant field to the home compound to feed the buffalo. Sometimes the cart will bring a sick villager in to see the doctor. Other times, the cart may contain a couple of barrels—hauling water from a distant river when the wells go dry. Sometimes, the carts pass by singly or perhaps there will be several as a caravan. Big animals, small animals, lean and lank, or smooth and sleek, bells and beads—still it is the oxcart passing slowly by. This is rural India—ever plodding slowly onward, but ever advancing. People that are hungry, people that are sad, people that are gay, happy and smiling—plodding by in the Oxcart.

TELSTAR SPORTS

Sidelines—How to be a Star

by Ross Timberlake

Last week around Telstar everybody was kind of up tight about the directors' thing and all the heat among students and teachers, and teachers and teachers; that's why the hold-off on the column.

Track is progressing all right, though I haven't watched them enough to make a rating.

Shot put seems good with Dale Buck and "Gubba" Smith (Kerry) helping. High jump sees Frank Packard, Brandon Falkenham and Jim Haskell, possible placers (members of Telstar's winning ski team). Broad jump I haven't watched, but through discussion with others it scunds fair (what about in a meet, Team?). Discus, javelin, and the running events, I haven't looked into enough, but from my knowledge of the practices I have watched, I see good prospects in Bob Tifft and Donald Luxton on the track.

Dan and Sally Hannon, and Tim LaVallee got back to active duty Tuesday in the Phys. Ed. Dept. after spending the 11th to 14th in Boston at the national convention of the N. A. H. P. E. R., which was held primarily in the Prudential Center.

Spot of great interest was the exhibit halls where athletic equipment manufacturers displayed their equipment, such as batting cages, weight equipment, and gymnastic gear, where demonstrations were put on by the Nissen company, a very large manufacturer.

The coaches also talked to John Niland of the Dallas Cowboys about football; were in on discussions on athletic instructors' duties; an athletic training clinic where first aid methods were discussed; a lacrosse discussion such as starting lacrosse in high school (take notice Boosters).

They attended two clinics on gymnastics, a comparison of old and new gymnastics, and mechanical analysis of movement in gymnastics. The highlight of the convention, as said by Dan Hannon, was a two-hour exhibition by the Springfield gymnastics team.

TELSTAR REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

GUIDANCE

The annual canvass for "Dollars for Scholars" is in the process of completion this week in SAD 44. If you have not had an opportunity to contribute to this desirable cause, please note the message on the front page of this issue of the Citizen. You may clip the coupon and forward it with your check to Roger Conant, Treasurer for "Dollars for Scholars" at the Casco Bank & Trust Company, Bethel.

In anticipation of National Health Week, May 11-17, the Guidance Directors from Bethel, Rumford, Mexico and Dixfield met at the Rumford Community Hospital on April 7. Mrs. Bette Marshall, Director of Nursing outlined plans for the observance of National Health Week. Tentative plans include the showing in each school the health film "Horizons Unlimited" during the week of May 5. This is to be followed by a visiting team from the hospital beginning the week of May 12 to each of the schools.

Interested students (boys and girls) many sign up for the following health areas for visitations in the Guidance office: 1. Nursing as a profession; 2. X-Ray technician; 3. Physical Therapy; 4. The L.P.N. Program.

Seniors are reminded that the scholarship applications at the Rumford Community Hospital closes on April 20.

On April 11 Frank H. Glazier was a business visitor at the Oxford County Mental Health Clinic at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway.

In reference to submitting Title V for Federal Aid for the local Guidance program in grades 7 through 12 for 1969-70 Mr. Glazier was in Augusta on April 16 to confer with Mrs. Ruth Pennell, State Director of Guidance.

Recent visitors at the Guidance office included Samuel Stokes of Lewiston representing the Maine Employment Job Corp; Bryan J. Springer, Jr., of the Department of Educational Vocational Rehabilitation Division of Lewiston; Miss Eva Bean and Mrs. R. R. Tibbetts of Bethel.

The Guidance Department has received word that the following students have been admitted to college: James E. Perkins at the College of Pharmacy at the University of Rhode Island; Steve Simmons in Business Administration at the University of Maine, Portland; Margaret Sylvester at Farmington State College; Lynn A. Dickey at the University of Maine, Orono; Robert Day at the School of Engineering of the Western New England College at Springfield, Mass.; Sharon Swan and Linda Carver at the Waterville School of Practical Nursing; Linda Koskela at the University of Maine, Portland.

Placed on waiting lists for colleges have been: Roger Cross in the Mechanical Drafting and Mechanical Technology Program at the Central Maine Vocational Technical Institute, Auburn; Philip Runnels at Union College of Schenectady, N. Y.; Paula Howe at Colby College; Linda Koskela at Bates College.

Two announcements arrived this week at the Guidance Office which may be of interest to you. Contact your counselor for more information concerning the following: 1. The Golden School of Beauty Culture at Portland with an announcement of a $100 scholarship; 2. An interesting bulletin from the School of Nursing at the Melrose-Wakefield Hospital in Massachusetts.

In a recent communication from Nasson College, Springvale, the following announcement has been received, "Nasson College is genuinely interested in finding and inspiring capable Juniors and Seniors who are interested in biology as a career. We are offering such students a summer science program in quantitative and environmental biology". Please contact the Guidance Office if you desire additional information.

Telstar Juniors and Seniors should be aware of the New England Student Program whereby Maine students may avail themselves of certain college and vocational school level programs anywhere in New England area and pay only the in-state tuition. Consult your Counselor if you desire more information on this exchange program.

Any Senior or post graduate student interested in becoming an apprentice in mechanical trades at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, N. H., should apply at the Guidance office for additional information at once. The closing date is April 30.

JOBS NEEDED. Any employer who is going to be hiring summer help, please contact the Guidance Office at Telstar. We have a number of high school students who are in need of summer employment.

ACTIVITIES

R. Pere Claude Vachon, French instructor at Saint Joseph's Seminary of Oblate Fathers in Bucksport, was a recent visitor at Telstar, where he conferred with Principal Richard Vaughan on the Telstar program. Reverend Father Vachon is extremely active in the A. A. T. F. (American Association of Teachers of French) and participates in regional meetings of French teachers throughout the State.

At the April 9th meeting of the Latin Club, members decided to put on a public supper at the Telstar cafeteria on May 23. This is one of the club's many activities aimed at building finances for the proposed trip to Rome next year.

Serving as chef for the occasion will be Felix Otero-Otero, Latin instructor. Mr. Otero is no novice in this field since he served as cook while in the Army and has had restaurant experience as well. Mrs. Hilda Brown, who is in charge of Telstar's cafeteria, is pleased to allow the group to use the cafeteria facilities and will aid in every way she can.

Toto, the pet of the Latin Club, will be given away that evening, and Mr. Otero promises there will be other surprises. So circle May 23rd on your calendar and make plans to attend. Suggested donations: $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

This Saturday a group of F. H. A. girls plan to go to Oxford for roller-skating. Approximately 25 girls are expected to make the trip.

On Saturday, April 26, ten members of F. H. A. will attend the F. H. A. Convention at Brunswick High School. Janis Kennagh, State Parliamentarian, and Anita Young, District E Chairman, will go to Brunswick the preceding evening to participate in a planning meeting.

Word has been received from the Telstar students in Mallorca, and, as expected, they are having a marvelous time. They found the trans-Atlantic flight enjoyable, and even the deluge of rain that awaited them in Paris failed to dampen their spirits. After a two-hour layover in that city, they flew on to Mallorca, where they found the weather perfect. It was warm and sunny, so cottons became the order of dress. Some of the group have even been swimming.

An interesting sidelight of the trip is that each Telstar student is carrying a gift to present to a friend he will make among the group of international students. The girls will give Telstar Satellite charms, while Lincoln Fiske, the one boy, will present a set of Telstar cuff links and tie bar to his friend. Incidentally, limited numbers of Telstar Satellite jewelry items (charms, brooches, cuff links, tie bars, and key rings) are still available and may be ordered at the Telstar Library.

The girls are now working with wood, metals and electricity, but by the end of the semester they will have gone through all areas of industrial arts, including graphic arts and automotives. At the present time each girl is making a lamp from wood and metal.

SUNDAY RIVER

— Mrs. R. M. Fleet, Corres.

Romeo Baker and two children, Randy and Jane, were here from Plainfield, N. J., to ski for the week, returning Monday, April 14.

Elden Yates went with his class to Lewiston, Saturday, to see the circus.

A party from Keene, N. H., were at their camp in Ketchum Sunday.

Mrs. Irene Russell and daughter, Judy, of Hanover, called on the R. M. Fleets Sunday.

Romeo Baker and children took dinner with Dr. and Mrs. Loy Harrell, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Fleet with Mrs. Dot Onofrio were shopping in Norway, Wednesday.

Our recent rain was just right. It lowered the snow and raised the brooks and river. But not too fast. No fishing yet.

Wild geese were seen in this neighborhood and we are told a flock spent sometime in the Androscoggin River near the Albert Kimball place.

Other birds here this week were white throated sparrows, kingfisher, flickers, eight robins, more red-winged blackbirds, red poles on their way to Canada, spent a couple of days with us for food and tree or swamp sparrows.

Sunday School opened with two surprises. A very nice colored picture of Christ all in a frame and a small four inch record player with eight records. It runs on a dry battery. Thanks very much.

Roland and Elmer Hayes of Greenwood visited their sister and husband, the Estes Yates, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Estes Yates visited Ed Haines recently.

Russell Yates and parents were in South Paris and Norway Tuesday.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

Hicks Pond rolled back its white collar slightly this week and opened her coat to the waters of the channel. As I returned from work each afternoon I noted the change from day to day. I stood for a moment and just looked with the sun peering too. It was a joy to smell the freshness and let my senses tell me, "This is good, satisfying and re assuring just to be here on an April afternoon."

The first muskrat came from beneath the ice on Friday and basked in the sunshine. There is no end of amusement in watching their antics.

Muskrats lived in the marshes of Staten Island when the Indians sold Manhattan to the Dutch. They don't mind man. Even though they are trapped heavily and beasts of prey hunt them they still live in the same territories. They are so prolific, that is their means of survival. Several litters of three to eleven young every year keep the race alive.

Each fall we watch them build their houses, in spring walk the ice and dive beneath, then in summer visit our shore or float and dive, entertaining us at breakfast time and evening.

Birds are arriving so spring is getting down to business at last. Let's fly and sing with them and find a song within our hearts. Birds —birds throwing back their heads among the bowers! We'll hear their musical voices chippering on, one pitch at regular intervals from this side then that.

Then soon there will be wooded hillsides gay with blossoms.

In the moist darkness of some grove and by the roadside those sweet violets are waiting to open.

The evening robin at the end of New England day, the first sparrows, blossoms, a spring starting with new hope.

I can hardly wait!

"There's a new note in the choirs
That sing upon the leafless boughs.
There's a new song in the air today—
A song that seems to rouse and resurrect the life within.
Grown cold in winter hours,
Waking all the old sweet dreams
Of blossoms, buds and flowers.
There's a new hope in the world today
Because of this glad sound.
There's an urgent and an upward thrust
Of green things in the ground.
There's a new joy in the hearts of men
Because of this strange note:
This rapturous reveille from
Some little feathered throat."
(Patience Strong)

MOLLYOCKETT DAY TO BE HELD AUGUST 2

The Bethel Lions Club, this year's chairmen of Mollyockett Day have already started preparations for this big area event to be held Saturday, August 2. Meetings with organization chairmen will be announced at a later date.

Mollyockett was one of the first settlers in the town of Bethel. A daughter of a tribal chief, she was a member of the Rockemeko tribe, but following a visit to Canada she became identified as a St. Francis Indian.

She settled on the north side of the river near Curatio Bartlett's farm, and lived with her daughter, Molly Susup.

A very devout woman, she sympathized with the Methodists and eventually became a convert although she never gave up occasional visits to Canada to make her confessions to a priest.

At one time she saved the life of a Boston fur trapper, Colonel Clark. To show his gratitude he built her a wigwam on the Falls of the Pennacook and there supported her the rest of her life.

The Bethel Health and Service Council believes that this day, "Mollyockett Day" is very fitting, since Mollyockett is best remembered as the first "healer" in the area. Although she carried no remedies, she utilized herbs and roots in making syrups, salves and medicines. She also was in great demand as a midwife and was in attendance when the first white child was born in Andover, Maine.

In addition to Bethel's "Mollyockett Day," her name is perpetuated by Moll's Rock at the Outlet of Umbagog Lake and by Molly Ockett Mountain in Woodstock. Mollyockett is buried in nearby Andover.

Watch this paper for later details on this great day.

BACK TO BIBLE MINISTER TO SPEAK BRYANT POND BAPTIST CHURCH, APRIL 20

The Rev. Donald Rubesh, representative of the Back to the Bible Broadcast, Lincoln, Nebraska, will be in the area Sunday, April 20-May 4. On Sunday, April 20, he will speak at the 10:30 a. m. worship service of the Baptist Church in Bryant Pond.

Rev. Donald Rubesh

His daily itinerary will be announced following the Back to the Bible Broadcast which is heard Monday through Saturday at 9:30 a. m. on WMTW-FM, Portland, and at 11 a. m. on WKTQ, South Paris.

Mr. Rubesh served as a missionary in India near the Tibetan border for six years prior to becoming manager of Back to the Bible's office in Ceylon when it opened in 1955. The office handles Bible correspondence courses, Christian literature and radio broadcasts for Pakistan, India, Ceylon and Burma.

According to Mr. Rubesh, radio has become increasingly important as a means of spreading the gospel. All missionaries have been expelled from Burma and those seeking visas for India and Pakistan find it more difficult to gain permission to enter those countries.

"Having been in India and Ceylon for 20 years, I am convinced of the effectiveness of the Back to the Bible Broadcast," the representative said. "For the limited facilities, no other portion of the world has had greater success in proclaiming the gospel."

Back to the Bible's English broadcasts are released more than 3500 times a week on over 535 selected radio stations around the world. The Missions Department sponsors broadcasts in 25 languages in addition to English.

"The Place of Sapphires," by Florence Randall. A suspense novel by the author of "Hedgerow".

"The Wind From The Plains," by Yashar Kemal. Within this narrative, Yashar Kemal evokes the simple passions of the true folk novel and evidences why he is considered the greatest living Turkish writer.

"Maine"—edited by W. Storm Lee. A literary chronicle which pieces together the story of Maine. This is not an anthology in any ordinary sense: the testimony is presented chronologically to give a lively scenario of the state's emergence from contested colony, to province, "district," state, and finally a kind of beloved American Arcadia. Gift of Kimball Ames.

"In Review," by Dwight D. Eisenhower. Together, the General's words and their accompanying photographs provide a self-portrait—or sketch whose dignity and fidelity can never be surpassed.

"A Yak for Christmas," by Louise Hillary. Few parents spend the Christmas holidays trekking through the Himalayas with their children. But that's precisely what Sir Edmund Hillary and his wife, Louise, did, and their experiences led to the writing of this thoroughly delightful book. For young adults.

"Mayo: The Story of my Family and my Career," by Dr. Charles Mayo. This startlingly candid autobiography is not only the story of a remarkable man, but it is also a history of the Mayo Clinic—and of the people whose single-minded dedication transformed an emergency hospital into a world renowned model of integrated group practice.
